

Overview

The Canadian Public Pension Leadership Council (CPPLC) was established in 2013 and is dedicated to informing the evolving discussions about retirement income security for working Canadians. We are a group of non-partisan senior pension administrators and professionals from across the country who are focused on conducting research that supports predictable lifetime pension benefits for our members.

Member Plans

Eleven public sector pension plans from across the country are members of the CPPLC. These plans represent 1.9 million* members and over $407.3 billion* in assets under management. The 11 member plans include:

- CAAT Pension Plan (Ontario)
- College Pension Plan (British Columbia)
- LAPP (Alberta)
- Municipal Pension Plan (British Columbia)
- NS Pension Services Corporation (Nova Scotia)
- OMERS SC (Ontario)
- Provident 10 (Newfoundland and Labrador)
- Public Service Pension Plan (British Columbia)
- Saskatchewan Healthcare Employees' Pension Plan (Saskatchewan)
- Teachers' Pension Plan (British Columbia)
- Winnipeg Civic Employees' Benefits Program (Manitoba)

Each member plan has a representative on council who elect two members from among themselves to chair the committee. Currently the CPPLC is co-chaired by Cheldon Angus, Saskatchewan Healthcare Employees Pension Plan, and Karen McKeown, BC Pension Corporation.

Research

As a research focused organization, the CPPLC will commission and promote research that supports the value of predictable lifetime pension benefits in Canada. To date, the CPPLC has commissioned the following research papers:

- The Pensions Canadians Want: Perceptions of Retirement (2023)
- The Economic Benefit of Public Sector Pension Plans (2021)
- The Social Implications of Pensions (2019)
- 2018 CPPLC Pension Forum Rapporteur's Report – The Future of Pensions in Uncertain Times (2018)
- The Pensions Canadian Want: The Results of a National Survey (2016)
- Shifting Public Sector DB Plans to DC – The Experience so Far and Implications for Canada (2015)
